Urgent Decisions Pres. TINUBU Needs To Make Now!

o w that the inauguration of Pres. Bola Tinubu has been done, the next urgent thing for the new President to do is for him to decide on key appointments. And that has to be done quickly.

He has to decide on the following: Who becomes his Chief of Staff? Who will be his Secretary to Government? Who will be his Deputy Chief of Staff? Who will be his National Security Adviser? Who will be his National Security Adviser? Who will be his Chief of Protocol? Who will be his Principal Private Secretary? Who will be his Presidential Spokesman? And Presidential Spokesman and Olusegun Dada is S.A Digital Media. In line with tradition, Tinubu is expected to make these appointments after being sworn in as President today, by the Chief Justice of Nigeria, Justice Olukayode Ariwoola. Over the last few weeks so many names of his political associates have been mentioned as possible Chief of Staff, like House of Reps Speaker, Femi Gbajabiamila, Minister for Works & Housing, Babatunde Raji Fashola and James Faleke, a Federal lawmaker.

As for SGF, Mallam El-Rufai, Aminu Maraki of Katsina, and contest for political office. What usually happens is that once he decides to run for a position, many people will come out to tackle him, for reasons best known to them. And the opposition to him is usually virulent and destructive. They will usually raise all sorts of issues; from the issue of his paternity, to schools attended. They will continue to throw up all sorts of issues, just to scuttle his ambition.

This happened when he wanted to become a Senator. It happened when he wanted to be Lagos Governor. It happened when he ran for 2nd term. Even when the APC began to refer to him as the National Leader of APC in appreciation of the pivotal role he played, they tackled him, wondering why he should arrogate to himself the role of leader of the party.

Even more interesting is the fact that some of his followers who he has raised and put in positions of power, usually turn against

Why is this so? Many say it is out of Envy & Jealousy for the strong brand that Asiwaju has built. They all want to be li has built. They all want to be like Asiwaju. They desire to step up their game to be like Asiwaju, overnight.

But interestingly, one after the other, all his haters and critics have failed. Not one of them have won any battle against him. Like former Lagos Governor, BRF once explained, Tinubu has engaged in many battles in life and he has won all of them.

City People can authoritatively reveal that there is a spiritual side to Asiwaju that many don't understand. Insiders reveal that God has a way of fighting for him, which further explains why and how he has been able to win all the battles and fights, launched against him.

Some respected Yoruba elders have also described him as an Akanda Eeyan, meaning someone specially made and annointed by God. Truly so. His life story has depicted this. All his childhood friends and contemporaries have revealed this aspect of him.

They have revealed how despite rascally he was as a boy he was brilliant topping his class. And turning around to teach his classmates some of the courses they took during their Accountancy days as students.

City People has also discovered that many, if not all, of those who have engaged him in political battles have ended up not only losing out, but they have become irrelevant in the scheme of things after their battles with Asiwaju. The list is long and unending. The way it goes is this. They declare war on him, reject pleas from well meaning people to let go, and after sometime, they lose out and their relevance fades gradually.

Like someone wrote online it is a testimony to Tinubu's surviving spirit that Tinubu survived the following Abacha's attacks, Tinubu survived the bludgeon stick of Obasanjo, Tinubu many conspiracy theories, Tinubu survived many spiritual and venomous attack from Pastors daily, Tinubu survived tons and tons of court cases to stop his inauguration.

For weeks a lot of groups have been roaming the streets of Abuja in what they termed protest against the inauguration of Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu come May 29.

And those who filed many cases against him have lost. For instance, the Appeal Court fined candidate and Abuja based Lawyer, Chief Ambrose Albert Owuru N40 million fine in the judgement last Thursday, a 3 member panel of the court was unanimous in holding that the appeal by Owuru and his party, Hope Democratic Party (HDP) amounted to an abuse of the court process. The Supreme Court also fined PDP and A t i k uAbubakar N2million for filing double nomination case against Shettima. The ex-Presidential

Federal High Court fined those who call themselves Concerned Nigerians N15 million for seeking to stop Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu's inauguration.

Recall that the DSS recently exposed plot to disrupt Tinubu's Inauguration on May 29, 2023. The DSS had to issue a warming regarding plans by certain elements to desrupt the May 29 handing over ceremony.

But many believe that President Tinubu will do justice to the appointments because he has over the years shown that he is able and capable when it comes to appointments.

Many have watched closely his road to power and how bumpy & rough it has been. Many believe that only a Tinubu could have survived all the odds thrown his way

Reveals His Over 30 Yrs Relationship

ot many people know how close President Bola Tinubu and Senator Gbenga Daniel are.Infact,only a few know the depth of their friendship. Yesterday, OGD revealed how, as Governor of Ogun State, Tinubu inspired his government to succeed. Ahead of the swearing in of the President-elect, Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu, on May 29, the former Ogun governor, Otunba Gbenga Daniel, recalled how he took ideas from the Lagos government under Tinubu to run Ogun State. Daniel described Tinubu, his long term friend, as the right man for the job, saying he will surprise Nigerians

And when I had the opportunity to serve as the Dele Alake is the new presidential spokesperson for Pres.

Bola Tinubu. He was appointed a few hours ago. No doubt about it, he is one of the most popular names from the Tinubu camp. And one of the President's strongest allies as well. Dr. Henry Dele Alake is one of the few Tinubu loyalists that have been with him long before Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu became the Executive governor of Lagos State. Indeed, they have both come a long way together. Ask those who know, and they will tell you that Dele Alake remains a force to reckon with within the Lagos establishment, particularly during the period Asiwaju was governor of the state. Not too many will forget the name Dele Alake. He was the brilliant powerful and articulate voice behind the governor who held sway as the Commissioner for Information and Strategy under Bola Tinubu all through Tinubu's eight years in office.

Dele Alake was exceptionally sound and grounded as Commissioner for Information and Strategy. He was extremely effective in the areas of defending many of the gpovernment's policies that the opposition at the time tried to pick holes in. This is one of the reasons why his boss, Bola Tinubu, holds him in high esteem when it comes to his job as a communications expert. They have remained close even after several years Tinubu left office as Lagos state governor.

There is no doubt that the President-elect has tremendous respect for this gentleman. They have a relationship that has transcended boss/surbodinate relationship. They have become allies. They have become brothers.

To say that Dele Alake has the ears of the President is like stating the very obvious. He is one of those closest to Asiwaju at the moment. He was very visible before, during and after the elections. He is presently the Director of Strategic Communication of the Tinubu Campaign Council and he has been firing on all cylinders, taking on both the PDP and Labour Party as they try to cast aspersions on the personality of the President, Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu and discredit the election that handed him the mandate to become the next

democratically elected president of Nigeria. He takes on every single voice that has been raised to discredit the emergence of the President, Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu as the winner of the recently held presidential election. From Atiku Abubakar to Peter Obi and their vatrious spokesmen, he has taken them on. He even took on the renowned writer, Chimamanda Adichie who wrote an open letter to the US government asking them not to recognise Asiwaju Bola Ahmed > presidential election. No doubt about it, he is very good at his job. Little wonder why, these days, once there is a discuss about who becomes the next minister 0 information, the name, Dele Alake, keeps popping up. He appears m o s t favoured by Tinubu to take charge o f t h e Information and Culture beat of the Tinubu administratio His n. experience n d incredible expertise will definitely be needed to help the country navigate through the murky waters it will surely experience while facing s t i f f criticisms $f \quad r \quad o \quad m$ opposition

Dele Alake in charge, Tinubu knows he can go to sleep without worrying about how things are run in the ministry. He knows Dele Alake like he knows the back of his hand, he knows he will deliver one hundred percent and more. Little wonder Tinubu was quick to make him the Director of Strategic Communication of the Tinubu Campaign Council.

Dele Alake first entered expertise, grace and wisdom. He is not a noise maker but a class act strategist.

Alake's eloquence and mastery of elocution have often set him > apart from his contemporaries. As a spokesperson for the President, he has demonstrated an uncanny ability to articulate complex political ideas and campaign messages quickly and gracefully. The clarity and conviction with which he speaks have won over many supporters and elevated political discourse in Nigeria. His recent press conferences during the election result saga give hints to Nigeria of what has been on the backburner for years. The Dele that you didn't know is now revealed.

It must be said that his elegance is not solely confined to his oratory skills. It is often observed in his personal and professional life that he is a figure of poise and Nigeria's political lexicon in 1993 when he played a pivotal role in MKO Abiola's presidential campaign, which ended in victory. However, that victory was shortlived, as the election was annulled, forcing the country into a state of uncertainty. But Mr Alake's patience and unwavering commitment to the democratic process have seen him wait nearly three decades to make a triumphant entry into the Aso Rock Villa with the man he has remained committed to for three decades.

One of Dele Alake's most notable qualities is his ability to forge strong relationships with political powerhouses in the country, a trait he shares with Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu. As one of the most loyal advisors and confidants to the President, Alake's deep understanding of Nigerian politics has played an integral role in shaping the successful campaign strategies that led to their recent electoral victory. He has proven that loyalty is greater than consistency. Dele Alake's ability to adapt and evolve with the ever-changing political landscape is a testament to his sophistication. Much like his political strategies, his sartorial choices are meticulously thoughtout and executed with precision. This effortless elegance has become a hallmark of his personality, further endearing him to colleagues and the public. His experience in Nigerian politics has given him a unique perspective on the challenges and opportunities facing the nation. As the driving force behind President Bola Ahmed Tinubu's campaign, Dr. Dele Alake has proven his ability to lead, innovate, and inspire. He has harnessed the collective energy and enthusiasm of the Nigerian people, propelling the younger generation towards a brighter, more rewarding future. In case you don't know, he played a great part in the success that was recorded in Lagos.

It will be interesting to see how the cabinet formation of the incoming administration will look like in the coming days. Many are happy at Dele Alake's new job.

Olowu Of OWU-KUTA, Oba MAKAMA Honoured...

...With The Commander Of The Order Of The Niger CON National Honour

lowu of Kuta, His Royal Majesty, Oba (Dr.) Hameed Adekunle Makama Oyelude has been conferred with the Commander of the Order of The Niger (CON) national honour, by President Muhammadu Buhari for his remarkable contributions to the country's progress and development.

His Royal Majesty, Oba (Dr.) Hameed Adekunle Makama Oyelude is the Permanent Chairman of the Supreme Royal Council of all Own Obas & Chiefs in Yorubaland, (which consists of 43 Kingdoms of Owu Obas, with 17 First-Class Royal Fathers and 113 Chiefs and Magagis; of Kingdoms and Chiefdoms across, Osun, Oyo, Kwara, Ogun, Lagos; parts of Republic of Benin, amongst others in diaspora). He is a First-Class Traditional Ruler and Member of the Osun State Council of Obas.

He was born in 1964 at Kuta. His parent was a direct descent of the founder of Kuta. Oba Makama ascended the throne of his forefathers on 15th September, 2012.

Kuta
Kingdom is the historical OwuKuta that was establish ed in the mid 15th century after their migration from Orile-

Owu, the ancestral headquarters of all Owus led by its founder, the Great Akindele Anlugbua who won several wars with tremendous success as the undefeatable protector of his people. Akindele was one fo the sons of the first Olowu of Owu-Ipole, HRM Oba Ajibosin Asukungbade whose mother was Olawumi Iyanude, daughter of Oduduwa of Old Ife dynasty.

Princess Iyanude is the mother of Owu Kingdom. She was the first child among the seven children of Ojodu. Akindele's only son was Morolahun who became the first Olowu of Kuta (1457-1552).

The Olowu of Kuta became officially recognised as a First-Class King in 1966. The Kuta Kingdom has 24 Bales and 23 Villages, four of which have expanded into towns namely: Ikoyi-Kuta, Aiyedade, Railway Station and Konkon. Till date, the four Ruling Houses of Kuta emerged from the 4 male sons of Morolahun.

According to the Koran, "that which God writes on the forehead, thou will come to it". Whatever maybe the final verdict of history, there is a sacred conviction that the Olowu has come to the throne of Owu-Kuta Kingdom at a young age, saw the intrigues and problems that overwhelmed some of his predecessors; he took the bull by the horn and subdued them. On ascending the throne of his forefathers, he has united all the four (4) ruling houses together; a mission considered impossible in the past; and extended a Royal hand of fellowship to other illustrious Princess of the Ruling Houses. Having enhanced the progress of the Kingdom and given it stability, character and DIRECTION. He is indeed, the architect of Innovation. A king with great vision who created in his mind, the image of modern Owu-Kuta Kingdom.

The Kingdom is benefitting more under his reign with great a chievements. A notable developmental monument he initiated and achieved is the "Lt. Gen. TY Buratal Balley Bridge" at Kuta, across Osun River, linking Ede. He has received so many commendations with impressive testimonies of the impact and height he has attained.

Lets tell you about his schooling. Oba (Dr.) Hameed Adekunle Oyelude attended African Church Primary School Kuta for his elementary education. He also attended African Church Secondary Modern School Kuta/Ileogbo. Among his severa 1 academic certificates prior to ascending the throne include Certificate in Structural Designs and Development, Diploma in Integrated Structural Systems, and B.Sc Civil Engineering.

He is a member of m a n y professional/So cial institutions like: (1) Honorary Doctorate, Chattered Institute of Public Resources Management & Politics, Ghana.

(2) Fellow, Chattered Institute of Public Resources Management & Politics, Ghana (3) Grand Patron, Young Leadership Association of Nigeria (YLAN) (4) National Patron, Man O War (5) Associate Member, Nigeria Institute of Management (6) Member, the West African Telecoms (7) Member, African European Cooperation, (8) Member Nigeria $Y \quad o \quad u \quad t \quad h$ Organisation, (9) Member Civil Liberties Organisation (10) International Member, the International Youth Council.

Oba Oyelude has business interests in the Nigerian and foreign economics with investments in Aviation, Building Construction, Property Development, Specialised Products, Human and Material Resources Development and Management".

He chairs the Boards of 5 companies two international organisations. Also, he is engaged in social works, especially in the areas of Social Audit, Counselling and Leadership Training.

One remarkable thing about Oba (Dr.) Adekunle

Oyelude is that he is a highly detribalised Nigerian and a proestablishment nationalist of repute. He is a man of integrity who is able to adapt-and integrate ideas effectively in solving business and communal problem. He has ability to work as a team player with effective leadership qualities, work under pressure, as an achievement driven professional and a fast learner of new ideas.

Other mortals with such an intimidating litany of achievements would swagger with such superlative pomposity that the imperial Nero would be cowed before them. But true to his nature he has always demonstrated that true royalty is not living in vain pomp but in great virtue adorned with humility.

Oba Oyelude is that superior gentleman that is modest in speech but irrepressible in his actions. His transformation of Owu-Kuta Kingdom, based on his capacity to harness the assistance of friends and well-wishers; his diplomatic engineering of his people; his tireless efforts at persuading and winning over known detractors are special gifts that God endowed him with.

The virtues of his kingly discipline were not learnt in the university but in the school of adversity. In the governance of his people, he has tried to be just and fair to all. To be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature, to be just to the best of his abilities is the glory of a good King. As a good king he will forever remain a landmark on the road of humanity; and will forever be a reference point in Owu-Kuta and the nation at large.

His hobbies include travelling, private zoo keeping, reading, meeting people and lawn tennis.

Oba Hammed Adekunle Oyelude is happily married, blessed with good children and very well supported by his Oloris.
